GENUINE GRIMM ALFALFA

As a result of extensive trials of numerous varieties of Alfalfa, at various Experiment Stations and on many farms, in the Northern States, the unanimous conclusion is that the Grimm strain is harder and more productive than any other known variety. It originated in northern Minnesota from seed brought from the fatherland and sown by Ferdinand Grimm, a German farmer.

Our stock, which is true to name, clean and absolutely free from dodder, is shipped direct from grower's farm in northern New York. This seed has given universal satisfaction. We recommend sowing 20 pounds per acre. Notwithstanding its higher price, we feel confident that our Grimm seed is the most economical for all farmers who desire to grow Alfalfa. Price per lb., 80c; 20-lb. lots and over, 75c per lb.

ROSEN RYE

Plant it to get 30 to 50 Per Cent. Increased Yield
Rye cross-breeds like corn. In this respect it differs from wheat, which will not cross fertilize, if two or more kinds are grown together for years. To keep a pure rye pure, it should be grown away from a common rye.

Rosen Rye was selected and bred from a Russian rye, the selection beginning in 1909 in this country by a Russian by the name of Rosen. The new Rosen rye is a large headed variety which, when pure has four full rows of grains. Farmers who have grown rye know that 15 to 20 bushels per acre is about what they can expect. Such farmers, who changed to the Rosen rye, are now getting 25 to 30 bushels, and 40 to 50 bushel yields are not uncommon. In a news dispatch to a newspaper about the yield of grain in a certain section, this year, was this statement: "Rosen rye is out-yielding common rye from 50 to 100 per cent."

Price $3.00 per bu.; per bag of 2 bu., $5.50; bags extra.
(Special price on larger quantities.)
Common Winter Rye. Per bu., $2.75 10 bu. and over, $2.50 per bu.
Prices on all grain and grass seed are net f. o. b. Boston, bags extra at value.
HYACINTHS

THE HYACINTH is the most popular, beautiful and fragrant of Holland bulbs. It is of almost every imaginable shade of color, and is suitable alike for house or garden culture.

POT CULTURE.—Plantings may be made at any time from September to December, though October is the best time. A light, rich soil with a mixture of well-rotted cow manure, sand and leaf mold is most suitable; use a five-inch pot and have the top of the bulb just below the surface of the soil. After setting the bulb, thoroughly firm the soil and give it a good watering. The pots should then be set away in a cool cellar or out-house and covered over with coal ashes or some litter. When well rooted, which will be in about six weeks, they may then be brought as wanted for a succession of flowers into a moderately warm, light room, or forced. To keep the foliage dwarf and obtain fine large flower spikes, Hyacinths, when being forced, should have plenty of manure, water, fresh air and should be kept near the glass.

CULTURE IN GLASSES.—Generally the single varieties are the most suitable for growing in water. They produce finer spikes of bloom and retain their beauty and fragrance longer than most of the double sorts. When it is desired to grow Hyacinths in water, they should be placed so that the base of the bulb merely touches the water. The glasses should then be set in a cool, dark closet or in the cellar, until nearly filled with roots, when they may be brought into the light. Change the water frequently. Give as much fresh air as possible without letting the plants stand in a draught. It is of importance in growing Hyacinths in the parlor that the atmosphere in which the plants are growing be kept moist, and as nearly as possible at a temperature of from 65 to 70 degrees.

OUTDOOR CULTURE.—The bulbs may be planted any time after the beginning of October and before the winter frosts set in. Any good, well-drained garden soil will answer. Dig deep and mix in a little decomposed manure; set the bulbs from four to five inches below the surface, and about six inches apart; after the ground becomes frozen, give a good covering of stable litter. In spring, about two weeks after the flowers have faded, the bulbs may be lifted, cleaned, packed in a box of dry sand and stored away in a cool place until wanted again for planting in the fall.

Single Late May Flowering Tulips and Species

These usually come into flower after the middle of May and are in their greatest perfection about Memorial Day; many of these are very fragrant. For grouping in mixed borders and in front of shrubbery, as well as for planting in beds, either alone, or with the tall growing, double flowered, late blooming sorts, they are unequalled.

Fine form, brilliant colors, sweetness, early flowering, easy culture, all tend to make the Tulip a favorite and the glory of our gardens in the spring. It is perfectly hardy and will withstand any amount of freezing without injury; but to protect it from the mechanical action of freezing and thawing, a mulch of leaves or litter should be spread over the beds as soon as the ground is frozen. While Tulips are not very particular in the matter of soil, doing well in any kind that is not wet, from a light, sandy loam to a heavy clay, yet a rich medium loam will give the best results. It is a good plan to crown up the beds in which they are to be planted so that the water will run off. October is the best month to plant, but any time after September and before the ground freezes will answer. Have the top of the bulb four inches below the surface, and set five inches apart each way. When the leaves begin to turn yellow, after the flowering, the bulbs may be taken up and replanted thickly in a shady location, or set in boxes of earth until thoroughly ripe. They should then be dried and put away in paper bags until wanted again for planting in the fall.

All single early Tulips are suitable for pot culture. The Duc Van Thol Tulips are the earliest, especially suitable for growing indoors.

Culture in Pots or Flats.—Use ordinary garden soil, set three bulbs in a five-inch pot, or a dozen bulbs in a ten or twelve-inch flat or pan; have the top of the bulb just even with the surface of the soil; after watering thoroughly, plunge the pots in a cold frame or set in the cellar and cover with coal ashes or sand. They may be brought into the house for forcing about the middle of December, and thereafter at intervals of two weeks, for a succession. With plenty of light, water and air, they will begin to bloom in about six weeks, in the ordinary living room.

Crocus—Kathleen Parlow

Choice Named Crocus

Plant during October or November, in clumps or masses, three inches deep. If planted along the border of the lawn they can be combined with Snowdrops, Scillas, Daffodils, etc. They are perfectly hardy and may remain in the ground undisturbed for years. Crocuses are easily forced. They should be planted very thickly in pots, flats or shallow boxes, filled with good light soil not too much packed down. The top of the bulb should be just below the surface. The Crocus may also be grown in glasses or in flat dishes with sand, moss or cotton batting as a foundation. Keep the material in which they are set constantly moist and growth will soon begin.

NARCISSI OR DAFFODILS

Narcissus, Mme. Plemp

Next to the Tulip the Narcissus is the most popular spring-flowering bulbous plant. Within a few years florists have learned how easily they will force, and what a wealth of form and color they possess, so now they are generally to be seen in the florists' windows by Christmas.

With few exceptions the Narcissi are hardy and strong, growing under ordinary cultivation. The bunch flowered or Polyanthus sorts, however, should not be trusted to the border.

OUTDOOR CULTURE.—The Daffodil will grow in any ordinary garden soil and in almost any situation, but prefers moderately stiff, well-drained soil, in situations slightly shaded, such as the herbaceous border and the margins of flower-beds, along the outside edges of shrubberies, on woodland walks and on the margins of lakes and streams, or for naturalizing in the grass or woodland. Planting may be done in the fall any time before the frost sets in, October being the usual month for doing this. Once planted they should not be disturbed further than dividing and resetting in August once in three or four years, when they get too crowded. The varieties marked H. are hardy; those marked HH. are hardy with a good covering of leaves or litter during winter; the kinds marked T. are tender, and suitable for growing indoors.

POT CULTURE.—It is unnecessary to say anything as to the merits of Narcissi of all kinds for this purpose, as their popularity is universal. At the head of the list stands the Tazetta, or Polyanthus Narcissis, with its large bunches of fragrant flowers.

The Paper White Grandiflora and Double Roman Tazettas are very largely used for forcing. All the varieties of the group are suitable for this purpose, and most excellent for cut flowers.

The Campernelle or Large Jonquil (N. odoratus), and the Single and Double Sweet-scented Jonquils are splendid—the last mentioned being exquisitely perfumed.

For culture, the hints given under Hyacinths may be followed. One very important point is to keep them cool for the first four or five weeks when they are commencing to grow. After the roots are grown and the tops well started, they may be pushed forward more quickly in heat. In cutting for sending to friends or for market, the flowers should be cut in the bud, and when placed in water they will open out beautifully.

Lily of the Valley

For open ground we supply either clumps or pips. The clumps should be set from six inches to one foot apart, and covered three inches deep. If pips are planted, set them to the same depth but quite thickly (every pip produces a flower). For growing in the house or for forcing, pips are by far the best, as they have more vigor and will bloom earlier. When potting pips keep the crowns or buds above the soil, cover the tops of the pots with loose moss, place them in a temperature of about 80 degrees, keep constantly moist with tepid water; they should produce flowers in from four to five weeks.

The ever-increasing demand for these old garden favorites makes it necessary to keep many of the leading varieties in condition to transplant during the summer months. Hence, pot-grown stock is kept constantly on hand. While this list contains only a portion of the varieties of herbaceous plants we grow, it is sufficiently large to enable one to secure a succession of bloom throughout the summer and autumn months and at the same time to establish plantings which will produce the very best results next season.

PAEONIES

Paeonies should be planted in rich, deep moist soil, after which they will require less attention than any other class of flowering plants. They are perfectly hardy and their remarkable freedom from disease and insects makes them most desirable. Paeonies thrive in all locations whether in the broad sunlight or partial shade.

RED CROSS CIDER MILLS

The Red Cross Mills are Built for Lasting and Satisfactory Service.

The frames (legs, sills and feet) are made of tough hardwood. The troughs are made of poplar which gives off no odor or taint to affect the taste of fruit juices. The press levers are turned from straight-grained ash.

The grinding parts are iron and unusually heavy. The cutting roll is so designed that it slices and tears the fruit, feeding it into the grinding rolls which thoroughly crush every particle, opening the juice cells and making it easily possible to extract all the juice when the tub is placed under the powerful press screw.

OUR NET PRICE LIST

Frames are heavy and strongly bolted together. Troughs are wide and deep. Tubs are capacious. Capable of withstanding great pressure, Red Cross Presses enable the user to get all the juice from the fruit.

BEST - SIMPLEST - CHEAPEST

A wonderful press for Fruits, Grapes, Lard, Jellies, etc. Large capacity. Special Feature: All parts coming in contact with the Fruit Juices are tinned with Pure Block Tin.

The steel screw has a coarse pitch, giving very quick action to handle, no nuts or adjustments to get out of order. Bowls are made of high grade tin plate with top and bottom rings on them. Inside bowl is riveted and has a lock seam making it doubly strong.

You want this press because it cannot get out of order. Will save the cost in a season in extra juice it will produce.
